receives herewith the SEALAND Generator with Code-No.
 for a one-year test by paying a user fee of 500 €.

After one year the user may extend this contract up to a maximum of three years by paying a further fee of 500 € per year. Alternatively after the first year the user may buy the Generator outright for 1'000 € as his property.

The main focus of the Vril technology (Sealand Generator) lies – next to the advantages in vehicles – above all in the health area by its strengthening of the immune system. Positive field reports spanning the last 15 years are on hand.

Test reports, experiences and further information may be found here:

The Vril technology had been continuously further developed in the 30s and 40s by the Vril Society, which finally led to the German flying disks.

The Vril technology had been continuously further developed in the 30s and 40s by the Vril Society, which finally led to the German flying disks.

Any product liability by the STCI is excluded since officially the Vril technology does not exist.

- If after one month you are satisfied by the performance of the Sealand Generator you may purchase the Generator by paying a further 500 € within ten days – i.e. within 40 days after you received the Sealand Generator – as your property.
